

Ryan Voss, Vice President of Beverage for Caesars Entertainment Corporation, Joins Las Vegas Business Academy Board of Directors

LAS VEGAS – The Las Vegas Business Academy (LVBA) welcomes Ryan Voss, vice president of beverage for Caesars Entertainment Corporation, to the highly esteemed Board of Directors. Voss joins more than 30 of Las Vegas’ top industry leaders in business, hospitality and law who are dedicated to further educate and pass on professional expertise and knowledge to the scholarship recipients working toward graduate degrees at University of Nevada, Las Vegas (UNLV).

After graduating from UNLV with a Bachelor of Science in Hotel Administration and a Bachelor of Arts in Culinary Management, Voss took Las Vegas by storm, working his way to become one of the city’s most prominent hospitality leaders. Voss has experience working within the beverage industry for Harrah’s Entertainment, WinePro Solutions, MGM International Resorts at The Mirage and The Bellagio, and now Caesars Entertainment.

“Voss brings more than a decade of experience within the hospitality and beverage industries to our organization, which he will allow him to teach our students important skills they will need in their future business ventures after graduation,” said Max Tappeiner, LVBA president. “Under his guidance, our scholarship recipients will be able to build a more extensive business portfolio, which is an integral part in gaining employment after graduation.”

Las Vegas Business Academy is a nonprofit organization that is dedicated to providing selected UNLV graduate students looking to earn a Master of Business Administration, Master of Hospitality Administration and/or Juris Doctorate with financial aid and unparalleled mentoring resources to become future Las Vegas leaders.
